Play tunes on us

Our objective is to give you the most effective publicity service possible within your budget. And we at Norman, Maber & Associates can put our creative skills into your selling effort in four areas:

Advertising - campaign origination, planning and production for all media.

Graphic design - and production of such vital material as promotional and informative literature.

Dimensional display - design and construction of exhibition stands, packaging and point-of-sale, to name but three.

Public relations - for tactical and strategic campaigns.

The complete orchestration, or a fine performance on one instrument - the choice is yours, since you are free to use all of our departments, some, or just one.

Why not discuss your requirements with us?

Together, we could make great music.

ABOUT THE PLOT

Here's Sinbad, cleaning his nails on his cutlass and minding his own business, when his Dad ups and dies just as he's returning the Holy Star of Baghdad to the Caliph. The Holy Star is sacred, unique, priceless, magical..... yes, you've guessed it, Sinbad's old man made a big boo-boo. The Caliph of Baghdad, Haroun el Rancid, is a bit cheesed to say the least, and Sinbad is summoned to save the City. He sets off to retrieve the relic accompanied by a motley crew indeed. There's About Turun (the psychotic saluter from Samerkand and Sinbad's military adviser); there's Demahlee (the devious double-crossing deceiver from Damascus) and there's Petal and Pansy (a pair of precious procrastinators from Persia). Together, they set forth on their adventure.

On the high seas (or in our case, the low seas - because sinbad can't swim) they first meet JR (an ample avian apteryx with amorous aims), then a storm, then their doom.

However, this is a Pantomime, so all is not lost. They find themselves not quite 100% doomed, and explore the delights of Bongo Island, where they meet the crafty catastrophic Captain Cutlass and his pugnacious pirates and their curvaceous captive, the beautiful Princess Jasmine. There follows a brush with the local hierarchy in the form of de local King ob de Jungle, and, yes folks, more doom. (My Pantomimes are always a bit heavy on the doom.) But as the scimitar is suspended for the sacrificial slice on Sinbad's sinews

Well, you'll have to watch it and see. With the aid of these few explanatory notes I'm sure you'll find it all a little easier to follow than 'Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy'. And, if you're an avid follower of contemporary theatre - I'm sorry, but there is a happy ending! I hope you all enjoy the next two hours of unashamed escapism. We certainly will!

The first Round Table was formed in Norwich by Louis Marchesi on 14 March 1927. The idea was for a Club where young business and professional men could get together regularly and at the same time use their skills in performing acts of service for the community. To keep the movement perpetually young, an upper age limit was fixed and is strictly adhered to. There are now well over 1100 Round Tables (with over 30,000 members) in Great Britain and Ireland, each autonomous, yet welded into a National Association. There are also Round Tables in more than 30 other countries. Fareham Round Table is part of that organisation and has 31 members who have enjoyed putting on this performance and we hope that you have as much fun from watching it. This Pantomime is our main fund raising project this year and, as always, all money raised will be spent on deserving local charities - to make life easier for the sick, the old, the young, and any other people of Fareham in need. Last year we raised over £1,000 which was distributed among many local charities, including the Mayor's Fund, Fareham Toy Library, Wessex Kidney Appeal, and Fareham Playgroups.

Have a good time - and a very happy and peaceful New Year.
